Sistering

Challenge 3: Create a solution that enables Sistering to display upcoming events and current volunteer opportunities to interested volunteers.

There are many existing and prospective volunteers who reach out to Sistering inquiring about how they can be involved and support the work that Sistering is doing in Toronto. It takes valuable time for Sistering staff to share all of the upcoming events and current volunteer opportunities with each interested volunteer.

On the other hand, there are times when many volunteers are needed for a particular initiative. In these cases, staff will consult a list of past volunteers and call them individually. This process is reactive rather than proactive, and quite time-consuming.

This solution should present a current overview of upcoming events and volunteer opportunities in order to streamline the entire volunteer coordination process.

Ideal Features:

- Calendar-based
- Events, Roles, easily displayed
- Integrates with Wordpress (current platform used by Sistering)
